Migrate to TON

from BSC

TON

Atlas Games has recently transitioned from the BSC (Binance Smart Chain) to the TON (The Open Network) blockchain, marking a significant step toward optimizing performance, scalability, and user experience.

While BSC provided a reliable launchpad with a large user base and Ethereum compatibility, its increasing gas fees and occasional network congestion prompted the need for a more efficient and forward-thinking solution. TON, with its ultra-fast transaction speeds and minimal costs, offers a blockchain infrastructure that aligns better with Atlas Games mission to deliver seamless and high-performance gaming experiences on a global scale.

A MAJOR ADVANTAGE OF TON LIES IN ITS POWERFUL AND VERSATILE API ECOSYSTEM, WHICH SIMPLIFIES THE INTEGRATION OF BLOCKCHAIN FEATURES INTO GAMING PLATFORMS.

These APIs provide streamlined access to smart contracts, on-chain asset tracking, and secure wallet interactions. With TON's developer-friendly tools, Atlas Games can now automate rewards, enable tokenized in-game assets, and introduce advanced features like cross-platform identity and microtransactions—all with greater ease and reliability. The rich API support accelerates development cycles and allows for faster rollout of innovative features to keep players engaged.

community and Accessibility via Telegram Integration

Another compelling reason for the migration is TON's native compatibility with Telegram.one of the largest messaging platforms in the world. This unique integration opens the door for social gaming experiences, direct community engagement, and seamless onboarding of new users through Telegram-based authentication and wallet access. For a gaming platform that values community growth and accessibility, TON provides a highly synergistic environment where gaming, communication, and blockchain functionality are closely intertwined.

Furthermore, TON's focus on mass adoption, scalability, and developer incentives makes it an ideal home for the next phase of Atlas Games. Its low-latency architecture and decentralized structure ensure stability, while its growing ecosystem of dApps and services presents new partnership and expansion opportunities. By moving to TON, Atlas Games not only upgrades its technical foundation but also positions itself at the forefront of Web3 gaming innovation, ready to tap into new markets, offer richer player experiences, and redefine how blockchain enhances online games.
